

I would give Mel Clemmons of SAMMS Consulting the highest recommendation in representing anyone wishing to sell or purchase an insurance agency on their behalf. He was very professional in all negotiations and worked diligently to make things as smooth as possible. He always represented us as if it were his own and remained in contact with updates and followed through till the end. Even after it was complete he was there for us to answer questions we had. It is a very great company to work with.

Eric Wagner